SU's Giving Day is April 4! Make your gift to any part of campus and double your impact. Gifts from students will be matched up to $50 to the same area of campus and gifts to the Libraries will be matched to a total of $1,000. Visit givingday.salisbury.edu for more information. Might we humbly suggest gifts to the SU Libraries, the Curriculum Resource Center, or the Nabb Center? Or to the Center for Student Achievement, TRIO, or the University Writing Center? All of these Libraries- or GAC-based units serve the entire student body.

LibGuides are here to help you

LibGuides are webpages created by library staff to share information, resources, and links. The majority are research guides for specific departments or courses, created by the liaison librarian for each academic department, to point you to the best resources—databases, books, etc.—for your department or course, often accompanied by tips on doing research. LibGuides also exist for library-related events and issues such as copyright, presenting research, and citation management. LibGuides are easy to find! Just go to our home page (www.salisbury.edu/libraries) and scroll down. You can choose drop-down lists of subject, class, or topic guides or click on “View More Library Guides” to see a list of all of our nearly 400 published guides.

Library Guides

Our Library Guides are guides that have been hand-crafted by SU librarians and library staff. Select a Subject to see the complete list of guides available for a particular discipline. Class Guides are created for specific courses to point you toward the resources that will be most useful to you based on the course syllabus. Topic Guides are guides that the library has created on various more general topics.

Haystacks at Holloway Hall

Holloway didn't always have tulips in front! This is just one of the thousands of photos of the University and Delmarva that you can find on the Nabb Center's Flickr page. Go to <https://www.salisbury.edu/libraries/nabb/collections> and click on Digital Collections.

Did You Know? You can find digitized versions of SU's yearbooks and student newspapers dating back to 1926 along with many other university publications in our free institutional repository, SOAR@SU, at <https://mdsoar.org/handle/11603/10986>. You'll also find student theses and various other items produced by our faculty, students, and staff.
